Handbook of reference for the determination of Chinese Dates, during the period from 1860 to 1869; with comparative Tables of Annual and Mensual Designations, &c., &c. Compiled by WILLIAM FREDE-BIOR MAYERS, H.M.C.S.

Author's Preface.

Most persons whose avocations or studies are connected even remotely with Chinese subjects are wont to confess the need of a convenient manual of reference for the purpose of determining dates according to either the European or the Chinese method of computation; and a system of comparison for the names attributed to years, months, and other periods is also frequent-FROM this date the Management of the is a desideratum with translators and fougkong Hotel is placed in charge readers of Chinese literature. The compiler of the following tables has thought, accordingly, that their publication in a convenient form may prove useful, although much yet remains to be done for the elaboration of comparative calendars, etc. that should leave nothing to be desired. With the exception of the Cyclical Table of Years, and the Table of Solar Terms, both | the time previously intimated. of which were originally compiled by Dr. Morrison, and afterwards republished with improvements in Williams' Commercial Guide, from which (with some alteration) they are now capied, the whole of the matter assembled in the following pages is for the first time made accessible to general

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, JUNE 22, 1869.

THE RIGHT TO PROSELYTIZE THAT the political status of missionaries is daily becoming a question of vital importance in our relations with this empire there can be no doubt, and fresh illustration of the fact is afforded by the recent conduct of Mr Taylor whose action at Yangchow afforded room for so much satirical comment by the British press. We defended Mr Taylor upon that occasion under the conviction that he was unjustly accused, but regret that we cannot take a similar view of his visit to Pootoo island, which, as a stronghold of Buddhiem, Mr T. has thought fit to attack with an indiscretion scarcely conceivable. Happily he has been "warned off" by Her Majesty's Consul, and present danger has been averted. But the matter of his right to proselytize has by no means been settled. Let us try to state clearly the grounds upon which an official is undoubtedly justified in giving such an order, and, if he will,

Broadly speaking, people take one of two views regarding missionary work-1st, that a missionary has the right to preach, and a right to armed protection while so preaching; or, 2nd, that the missionary has a right to act as he likes, but should not be able to claim armed interference if he gets into trouble. The first of these propositions is that, to great extent, acted upon by the French who, when practicable, exact the punishment of those who have killed or treated the priests of their religion. is however so opposed to the views generally held at home regarding missionary enterprise that only in extreme cases do our officials feel called upon to interfere. In the Yang-chow case the outrage was not perpetrated upon Mr Taylor's party because they were missionaries, but because they were foreigners. People at home, however, were under the impression that some offence had been given on religious grounds the Chinese, and hence the outery which was raised. Unfounded as that outery happened to be, it conclusively proved our assertion that armed support to missionary effort is in the highest degree unpopular with the majority of English men. The proposition may therefore be dismissed as practically untenable.

The second yiew holds good in theory,

but equally breaks down in practice.

In general terms it is doubtless true that prohibiting missionary work altogether.

the way of risking injury or death, so long as he does not thereby inflict wrong upon the public. Yet even this theory has a practical limitation in the law which punishes attempts at suicide. The advocates of missionary freedom act as each one likes urge that, if secular support is not asked for, no one has a right to stop a missionary from risking his life in a Chinese City. It is on this point that the question of Consular interference turns, and we approve that interference because the argument stated overlooks an important fact. The individual life of the missionary may be nothing to the State. But in a country like China. British subjects generally cannot afford for their own peace and safety to permit any countryman theirs to be tortured or murdered natives without exacting re-The right of the missionary to do as he likes regarding his own safety is therefore practically limited by the evil he inflicts on his fellow subjects, if evil befall him, by obliging them either to lose prestige (i.e., safety to life and property-in China) or to resort to armed interference to procure whatever satisfaction may be obtainable. And if this proposition be granted the legitimate inference must be that a power lies with the official who on the spot our proselytisers at all hazards. But if possibly could. there be no force available, or if, as at present, public opinion is so strongly against action, we can see no other solution of the dilemma-than to support the Consul right in directing Mr Taylor to leave We commend the argument

MR. SEWARD AT NANKING. WITH reference to our article of the Seward's visit to Nauking, we have received a communication, from a source which leaves no possible room for doubt as to its truth, contradicting in a matenal point the account we gave of his interview with the Viceroys. As we

The Hon, the Chief Justice sat at eleven o-day, in order to consider an application for leave to appeal against judgment in the case of Regina v. Souzu. Mr. Pollard, Q.c., who appeared for Mr Pereira, the plaintiff, said that, on looking over the matter again, he found that his Lordship had no power to grant leave to appeal; but that application had first to be made as a matter of form to this Court The case was similar to that of the Queen n the previous argument, to which he would now draw the attention of the Court. Two rules were obtained calling upon Mr. at the instance of Mr Bernardino Fernandes) to show cause why criminal informations should not be filed against the parties named for libel. The libels were very gross. and grave charges were made against Mr B. Fernandes—who, curiously enough, may be said to be the real defendant in the present case, and was father of the libel. Bridges and himself were for the plaintiff the matter, and he (Mr P.) was surprised that his memory had served him cases were incidentally referred to in the case of R. v. as Bernardino Fernandes v. Percira. His Lordship observed that even though the precedent here was tolerably clear, his theory would still hold good, viz. that what was no crime in England could not be crime in Hongkong. They could not create orime in this Colony ; and they could not place a decree of this Court against the course of decisions of the Courts at home. There were many grave difficulties in the case, and he did not at all wonder that the judgment was appealed.

Mr Pollard remarked that it was cerconsidering the peculiar relations of Macao with Hongkong, a large number of the Macaense being domiciled here.

His Lordship cited Folkestone and Boulogne as nearly analog us. Mr Pollard said that if the law was as his Lordship had laid it down, it would be at least awkward. Witness was then doing a good brokerage business, having made over $800 for each Bertrand. There were two precedents, month of April and May 1867; but he however, which had escaped his recollection | agreed to the proposal ou favorable condi tions and on the understanding that all the agency business done by Howard would be done through the Stag. He was to get Murrow (Daily Press) and Mr Souza (Echo | $160 per month as salary, and a share of do Poro), just ten years ago, in June 1859, the profits. But it was ultimately arranged by Howard that, on doing all the business with him which he could, witness would get the Hotel in his name. The mon was for arranging the purchase of the business and otherwise looking after his (wit ness's) interests.

THE HONGKONG ASSOCIATION

To the Editor of the " OHINA MAIL," SIR, - I have read with some little aston shment the letter in the issue of your contemporary of this date from the Secretary of the Hongkong Association, having been under the impression it had ceased to exist. and possibly being naturally obtuse the arguments used fail to convince me that the Association has done its duty. What wish to know is, what has the Association done? and not what its objects are; and

We are told, the proposed objects are vere purely local, and not intended to embrace subjects bearing on European interests in China. If the members endorse this statement their views must be childish. narrow and bigotted, as any act towards improving the freedom of Trade at the several Treaty Ports must naturally have a similar effect on the welfare and prosperity Hongkong. It is simply evasion to say that the duty of forming opinions in regard to our Policy in China belongs to the Chamber of C mmerce, as it is well known that self-satisfied body will not move probably from a well-founded latent feeling of their own lack of ability.

If such is their belief I would advise them to dis abuse their minds of it, and dissolve the Association as speedily as possible. English public have read the despatches and do not recognise the master mind or stamp of genius, and the London Committee deem the arguments used so worthless that even a reply is considered unnecessary. I may also add that the sum of $160 appears heavy for the cost of three dispatches, even although it has taken the Secretary and Committee two years to compose

THE MAHOMEDAN REBELLION IN THE NORTH-WEST.

(N. C. Herald, June 17.) Tso-tsung-tang, after long waiting, has at ast succeeded in making an impression on the Mahomedaus who are in rebellion in Kansuh. For several years that province. with its neighbour Sheusi, forming together the region ruled by this Vicerov, had been miserably desolated by these ruthless insurgents, who from the reign of Shun-chi have at brief intervals given trouble to the government. The Imperialists have made fitful campaigns against them, with varied success; but troubles in other parts of the empire have prevented them from any persevering effort on a large scale. Very recently, it will be remembered. Tso himself was recalled from the North-west, to aid Li against the Shantung Nienfei. Since the suppression of the later, he has been able to resume operations on a larger scale,

We regret that we are unable to announce, at the same time, the detection and punishment of the men who have lately attacked Frenchmen in the streets, nor of the incendiaries who attempted to fire the French Legation. These outrages were doubtless the work of isolated fanatics whom it is very difficult, if not impossible, to discover, particularly in the absence of any even the faintest clue. We have recently pointed out the extreme danger to Japan of a collision, or even of the threat of a collision, with France, and there is no doubt that the Mikado's Government would very severely punish the perpetrators of these outrages, if they could be caught.

The important question of the currency is still occupying the attention of the foreign and native authorities. Having established the Mint at Osaka, built premises and erected machinery, the Government naturally objects to its removal to Yedo, but on the other side it is considered of such paramount importance that it should be here, where it can be under the immodiate control of the Imperial Treasury. instead of being left to the care of aubordinate officers at a distance, that we may consider it certain that this difficulty will be overcome. The Committee in charge of the Municipal Reform question met the Foreign Ministers last week and are believed to be satisfied with their reception; but they await now a written reply to their Memorial. We hear from Hiogo that on June 1st, another sale of land on the foreign concession took place. We see-and with pleasure—that only in very few instances, did the lots go for much above the upset price of eight boos per tsubo. The exorbitant price of the land allotted to us for our residence in this country is one of the best founded and heaviest grievances we have to allege against the Japanese. Mr James Sinclair Downie of Yokohama, has been charged before this Court, for having, contrary to the Treaty, proceeded into the country beyond the limits, without the necessary permission, and assaulted the Japanese officials when in the execution of their duty. The case was heard before Mr. Robertson, and the sentence was stoppage of permission to proceed beyond Treaty limits for a month.

On the 7th instant about 3.38 p.m. the smartest shock of earthquake that has been felt in Yokohama for some years, startled our worthy citizens. The vibration was so great as to set chaudeliers, &c., swinging at a sharp pace for some minutes, and we have even heard that the movement of clocks was arrested by the motion. We are informed that portions of one or two scaffoldings or sheds were thrown down. but believe that no accident has resulted. It would be interesting to know the extent of the shock.

(Japan Gazette.)

The exact condition of affairs political, either at the head-quarters of the Govrnment in Yedo in the south, or in north, it is quite impossible to fathom. HONGKONG, TUESDAY, JUNE 22, 1869. THE RIGHT TO PROSELYTIZE. THAT the political status of missionaries is daily becoming a question of vital importance in our relations with this empire there can be no doubt, and a fresh illustration of the fact is afforded by the recent conduct of Mr Taylor whose action at Yangchow afforded room for so much satirical comment by the British press. We defended Mr Taylor upon that occasion under the conviction that he was unjustly accused, but regret that we cannot take a similar view of his visit to Pootoo island, which, as a stronghold of Buddhism, Mr T. has the absurd charge of private animosity thought fit to attack with an indiscretion scarcely conceivable. Happily he has "warned off" by Her Majesty's Consul, and present danger has been everted. But the matter of his right to proselytize has by no means been settled, | that of the Inspector of Buildings, to the Let us try to state clearly the grounds upon which an official is undoubtedly justi- bearing W., the component parts of which fied in giving such an order, and, if he will prohibiting missionary work altogether. Broadly speaking, people take one of two views regarding missionary work-1st that a missionary has the right to preach, and a right to armed protection while so preaching or, 2nd, that the missionary has a right to act as he likes but should not be able to claim armed for leave to appeal against judgment in the interference if he gets into trouble. The first of these propositions is that to a great extent, acted upon by the French who, when practicable, exact the punishment of those who have killed or ill treated the priests of their religion. sionary enterprise that only in extreme cases do our officials feel called upon to interfere. In the Yang-chow case the outrage was not perpetrated upon Mr under the impression, that some offence had been given on religious grounds to the Chinese, and hence the outery which was raised. Unfounded as that outery happened to be, it conclusively proved our assertion that armed support to missionary effort is in the highest degree unpopular with the majority of Englishmen. The proposition may therefore be dismissed as practically untenable. The second view holds good in theory, but equally breaks down in practice.

In general terms it is doubtless true that

It is on this interference turns, and we approve that interference because the argument stated overlooks an important fact. The individual life of the missionary may benothing to the State. And if this proposition be granted the legitimate inference must be that a power of veto upon the missionary's proceedings lies with the official who on the spot represents the rule under which the missionary lives. There are many who our proselytisers at all hazards. But if possibly could. there be no force available, or if, as at present, public opinion is so strongly against buch a proceeding as to negative its action, we can see no other solution of Fittock was, in our opinion, undoubtedly right in directing Mr Taylor to leave Pootoo. We still feel bound to differ from his political views as to the best way of conducting intercourse with the Chinese. But we may state that we are satisfied (1) that in the coal-mine question Mr S. had no individual interest to serve in his discussion; (2) that Mr Seward did not himself use the illustration of contrasting British menaces with American friendliness; (3) that the visit to Nanking was not "secretly" undertaken, it having been long arranged with Admiral Rowan; and that the sudden nature of the start was owing to reasons totally unconnected with politics. It is, however, conceded that there were appearances connected with the trip which laid Mr Seward's conduct open to misapprehension.

In concluding the amende which we deem it right to make and we may state that no pressure whatever has been used to induce it—we may again remark that observations were founded upon what we believed to be authentic grounds and that upon other points they remain uncontradicted; but that in any they referred exclusively to the officia conduct of the Consul General, and that on our part has not, and never had, the smallest foundation in fact,

The house was to be left in a habitable state : and as Mr. Howard would no doubt admit, the kitchen was in a wretched condition, and had to be repaired at once. In this defendant had neglected plaintiff's interests; and altogether he (plaintiff) would have been better ha away at the beginning and arranged nothing, Howard had arranged to get his into a good thing, instead of which he had not done so, and it had turned out badly

THE HONGKONG ASSOCIATION. To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

SIR, -1 have read with some little astonshment the letter in the issue of your contemporary of this date from the Secretary of the Hongkong Association, having been and possibly being naturally obtuse the arguments used fail to convince me that the Association has done its duty. What wish to know is, what bas the Association

If the members endorse proving the freedom of Trade at the several Treaty Ports must naturally have a similar effect on the welfare and prosperity Hongkong. It is simply evasion to say that the daty of forming opinions in regard to our Policy in China belongs to the Chamber of C'mmerce, as it is well known that self-satisfied body will not move probably from a well-founded latent feeling of

If such is their belief I would advise them to disabuse their minds of it, and dissolve the Association as speedily as possible. The English public have read the despatches and do not recognise the master mind stamp of genius, and the London Committee deem the arguments used so worthless that even a reply is considered unnecessary appears heavy for the cost of three dispatches, even although it has taken the Secretary and Committee two years to compose NEWCHWANG. - The successful operations in piece goods of various classes, which characterized 1867 and the earlier portion of last year, produced, as is well known, an extreme acarcity of silver, which during the past winter reached an exceptionally high value. Hopes of course were entertained that a reaction would take place on the opening of the port; but these anticipations were not realized, and the result has been that foreign fabrics of every description have proved totally unsaleable. Natives are sanguine that a change may occur after an important ideal settling day about the 1st day of July; it is difficult, however, to speak with certainly on the subject. There has been one almost novel element introduced during the first month of the season several sailing vessels and one steamer have been laden for Japan, and it is confidently expected that the consignments to Hiogo and Yokohama, will be profitably dispose of. Silver however must be sent for the purchase of produce; the despatch of manufactures can only ensue in loss. It is hoped that, at last, H. B. M. Cousulate will be able to surrender the temple so long occupied. The visits of Mr. Boyce should have some practical result.

A correspondent remarks—Shippers tea must be cheered by statistics so far this season. Settlements to date in Hankow. Shanghai and Kiukiang amount to about 200,000 chests. Of course, though such a thing as that will never happen again. Oh no! Not at all.

THE MAHOMEDAN REBELLION IN THE NORTH-WEST.

(N. C. Herald, June 17.) Tso-tsung-tang, after long waiting, has at last succeeded in making an impression on the Mahomedana who are in rebellion in Kansul. For several years that province: with its neighbour Shensi, forming together the region ruled by this Vicercy, had been miserably desolated by these ruthless insurgents, who from the reign of Shun-obi have at brief intervals given trouble to the government. The Imperialists have made fitful campaigns against them, with varied success; but troubles in other parts of the empire have prevented them from any persevering effort on a large scale. Very recently, it will be remembered. Tso himself was recalled from the North-west, to aid Li against the Shantung Nienfei. # JAPAN.

(Japan Times.)

While on the subject of the restoration of peace, we may mention a curious proof which has come to our knowledge of the may have been a clever mode of getting truth that few people are better fitted, apparently, to bear with equanimity the vicissitudes of fortune than the Japanese. We have lately heard of three instances of adherents to the Tohusawa clan, one a small Daimio, the other two Hatamotos. who, instead of committing such an absurdity as harakiri, have bent to the blist of evil fortune and, having lost all the r wife or concubine of great talent in arranging evening entertainments, has established a corps of singing girls and posturers which is rising rapidly in public favour.

We are glad to be able to state that ample apology was given by the highest personage in the State himself, for the insults suff rad by Captain Stanhope and Mr Consul Robertson on the Tokaido. As it proved that the it will be seen that this latter vessel has train which met them was in attendance to day come out of Muirhead's Dock where upon the ladies of the Mikado's Court, nothing more could be demanded beyond the apology, but the terms of this were most full and, as we said in our last, such precantions I ave been taken against a repetition of outrage against foreigners, that the Tokaido is as safe as the New Road.

We regret that we are unable to aunounce, at the same time, the detection and punishment of the men who have lately attacked Frenchmen in the streets, nor of the incendiaries who attempted to fire the French Legation. These outrages were doubtless the work of isolated fanatics whom it is very difficult, if not impossible, to discover, particularly in the absence of any even the faintest clue. We have recently pointed out the extreme danger to Japan of a collision, or even of the threat of a collision, with France, and there is no doubt that the Mikado's Government would very severely punish the perpetrators of these outrages, if they could be caught.

The important question of the currency s still occupying the attention of the forign and native authorities. Having estabished the Mint at Osaka built premises and erected machinery, the Government naturally objects to its removal to Yedo, but on the other side it is considered of such paramount importance that it should be here, where it can be under the immediate control of the Imperial Treasury. instead of being left to the care of subordinate officers at a distance, that we may consider it certain that this difficulty will be overcome. With regard to the other demands of the Chamber of Commerce, no change has taken place in the intentions of the Government since we last wrote on the now a written reply to their Memorial. We hear from Hiogo that on June 1st, another sale of land on the foreign concession took place. We see and with pleasure—that only in very few instances, did the lots go for much above the upset price of eight boos per tsubo. The exorbitant price of the land allotted to us for our residence in this country is one of the best founded and heaviest grievances we have to allege against the Japanese.

Mr James Sinclair Downis of Yokohama. has been charged before this Court, for having, contrary to the Treaty, proceeded into the country beyond the limits, without the necessary permission, and assaulted the Japanese officials when in the execution of their duty. THE "TREATY PORTS OF CHINA & JAPAN." AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN.

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS. From the "Straits Times," July 27, 1868.) Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Overies on thing and Japan, published censes issued to l'ilots not being natives monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manuers and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers.

(From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868. We acknowledge with thanks the receipt f the numbers for the current year of 'Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

(From the "London Examiner," May

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports of China and Japan "] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. It has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Denuys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds, considerably enhance its value: * * * We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European 1.—Pilot Boats shall be registered with readers respecting its history, public buildings, and general characteristics, that we where each boat will be given a certificate would fain transfer them to our columns. and number.
